Propose your research project on forced migration and apply for an interdisciplinary PhD scholarship of 1,500 € per month starting September 2020.

Application period starts February 3 and ends April 24, 2020.

For more information see research-school.rub.de/sylff.html
PHD SCHOLARSHIPS:
Sylff Mikrokolleg on Forced Migration

The Tokyo Foundation and RUB Research School invite excellent young researchers to apply for one of three doctoral research grants of the Ryoichi Sasakawa Young Leaders Fellowship Fund (Sylff).

We are looking for candidates with a background in economics, law, political science, sociology, or a related subject and a clear commitment towards interdisciplinary cooperation. Successful applicants will be part of a small interdisciplinary graduate school (Mikrokolleg) and work on the overarching topic of Forced Migration at RUB.

INTERDISCIPLINARITY AT ITS BEST
PERSPECTIVES AND TOPICS

The International Organisation for Migration defines Forced Migration as a cross-border “migratory movement in which an element of coercion exists, including threats to life and livelihood, whether arising from natural or man-made causes”.

Projects can be submitted for the following research perspectives. The professors mentioned will supervise these projects:

- Ambiguity and Cleansing: Religious Fundamentalism as a Root of Forced Migration
  Contact: Prof. Dr. Volkhard Krech
- Foreign Aid and Migration
  Contact: Prof. Dr. Thomas K. Bauer
- International Refugee and Migration Law
  Contact: Prof. Dr. Pierre Thielbörger
- Migration and Alternative Humanitarianism
  Contact: Prof. Dr. Katrin Radtke
- Organized Violence in the Process of Forced Migration
  Contact: Prof. Dr. Ludger Pries

APPLICATION:

Apply with an individual research project linked to one of the research perspectives of the professors involved until April 24, 2020.

For more information on the application procedure and research perspectives visit: www.research-school.rub.de/sylff.html

THE GRANT:

The grantees will receive a monthly funding of 1,500€ for a period of three years, starting in September 2020. They can take advantage of the many offers and funding possibilities of RUB Research School and Tokyo Foundation and will be integrated in research activities on Forced Migration at RUB.

Any Questions? Contact Dr. Sarah Gemicioglu,
Phone: +49 (0)234 32-27109, sarah.gemicioglu@uv.rub.de